

AICCM Image Permission Form

Terms of Copyright & Use

Copyright for images published within AICCM print publications and on the AICCM website remains with the creator of the image. However, by signing this form and allowing the image to be published by the AICCM, you agree that any other person may be free to copy, distribute and display this image, under the following conditions:

- You must be acknowledged and attributed as the original creator of the image.
- The image may not be used for commercial purposes.
- The image may not be altered or transformed in any way.
- For any reuse or distribution, other users must make clear to others the license terms of this work.
- If contacted directly, you may waive any of these conditions, as the copyright holder.

Your fair use and other rights are in no way affected by the above.

Agreement

I declare that I am the creator of the images described below.

I grant permission to AICCM to publish the following images, in both AICCM print and web-based publications.

I certify that I have obtained the appropriate permissions from the owner(s) of any cultural items depicted within the image and from any persons depicted in the image.

I acknowledge that I have read and understood the terms of copyright and use described above.

Image No.	Brief description of image (include names of persons depicted)

Name (please print): _____

Signature: _____

Name of institution, if applicable: _____

Date: _____